The meeting opened at 8pm. The first number drawn was 1, by Miss Entwistle. The club was collected, and fines paid totalling 50 pence.
The whip was set at £2.

Club Business: - The proposed book raffle was postponed to the next meeting when more members were expected to be present.
Dora, Mr Dawes Cockapoo, was admitted to the meeting and he was fined 10p for his presence in accordance with the rules. No fine was levied for drinking before the president had raised his glass, as the dog bowl was on the floor rather than the table.

The venue of the Supper Dinner in November is likely to be Huntley's Restaurant, Mr Moore will discuss with the owners when they return from holiday.

Mr Davidson reported that he had not ordered a new book stamp as he had found a quaint one in the Puddles Bag, ordered the Ancient Dalton Book Club, with space for the number, and members decided to adopt this. Miss Entwistle was authorised to purchase an inkpad and to select the colour of the ink.

Some discussion was held as to the identity of the stewards - Dr Selvester on the newest member rarely attending, and Miss Entwistle having resigned the role when accepting the position of Secretary. Mr and Mrs Schofield resumed the role as next most recent members.

It was noted that the July minutes appeared twice on the club website and August was missing. This will be corrected in due course.

The meeting closed at 8:48 pm

The date of the next meeting is 28 October 2026
